CONTRIBUTORS / COLLABORATORI

PETER R. ANDERSON teaches at the University of Cape Town, where he is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of English. He has published on a wide variety of subjects, perhaps especially on Coleridge's interactions with Dante, with Thomas Pringle and with the Xhosa itola Makhanda. Of Italian concern, his publications include work on the South African 6th Armoured Division in Italy in 1944-5, on Dante, and on Piero della Francesca. He is the author of two volumes of poetry, Litany Bird and Foundling's Island, and editor of the anthology In the Country of the Heart.

ANDREA LOMBARDINILO is tenured lecturer and assistant professor of Sociology of cultural and communicative processes at the "Gabriele d'Annunzio" University of Chieti-Pescara, where he teaches Sociology of cultural processes and Sociology of education. He also teaches second degree masters in "European citizenship and integration in the Mediterranean area" at Roma Tre University. He carries out research on reform processes of the university system, with a focus on innovative reform actions and institutional communication for universities. He is Head of literary communication and sociology of literature.

ANITA VIRGA is a Lecturer at the University of the Witwatersrand in Johannesburg (South Africa) since 2013. In 2015 she obtained a Research PhD in Italian Studies ("Italianistica") at the University of Connecticut with a thesis on "Subalternità siciliana nella scrittura di Luigi Capuana e Giovanni Verga". Since 2014 she is President of A.P.I. (Association of Professional Italianists in South Africa). Among her publications are articles on Literature and Sicilian cinema. Currently, her interests are on Sicilian literature, Postcolonialism and Gender studies.

MICHELE ZANOBINI studied Classics at the University of Florence (Italy), where he received both a BA (2008) and a Masters degree (2010). In the summer of 2011 he moved to Baltimore (USA) to take up a graduate fellowship at the Johns Hopkins University where, in the summer of 2016, he will be awarded both a second Master degree in Classics and a PhD in Italian Studies and Neo-Latin literature. Throughout this five year programme, he combined his activity of Academic researcher with that of teaching assistant of Italian language, literature and culture. Along with Classics and Italian studies, he has always harboured a deep passion for classical music; from 1991 to 2009 he studied violin at the Fiesole Music School (Florence) where he also taught children.

INFORMATION FOR CONTRIBUTORS / INFORMAZIONI PER I COLLABORATORI

Italian Studies in Southern Africa is published bi-annually and aims at providing a forum for academic discussion on all aspects of Italian culture. The journal features articles on the Italian language and literature and, since it is one of the primary aims of the journal to foster multi- and interdisciplinary study and communication, contributions are invited from all writers interested in Italian culture, irrespective of their specific disciplines. Contributions of a less theoretical nature which provide an insight into Italian culture, especially as it manifests itself in Southern Africa, will also receive attention.

Each article will be critically evaluated by two referees. Notice of acceptance or rejection will be communicated in writing to the author with reasons for the readers' decision.

Copyright on all published material is vested in A.P.I. When submitting an article for publication in Italian Studies in Southern Africa/Studi d'Italianistica nell'Africa australe, the author automatically accepts the following conditions: 1. If published, all copyrights on the article are ceded to A.P.I.; 2. The article has not been published nor is in the process of being published anywhere else.

Contributors must seek the Editor's permission when a reprint of an article is envisaged. The Editor reserves the right to amend the phrasing and punctuation of any article as may be deemed necessary.

Opinions expressed in contributions are those of the authors, and are not necessarily endorsed by the Editor, the Editorial Board or by A.P.I.

Guidelines

- Contributions in Italian or in English should be submitted preferably as an e-mail attachment in Microsoft Word format. The text of the manuscript must be preceded by a brief summary (approx. 10 lines) in English for Italian texts and in Italian for English texts.
- Although longer articles may be considered for publication, a length of 7 000 words (about 15 printed A4 pages) is set as general guideline.
- The article should be supplied with a cover page on which only the title of the article, the author's name and address and professional affiliation appear. The article itself should then start on the subsequent page, with the title and summary (about 100 words).

Manuscripts that do not adhere to the house style of the journal will not be considered.

Style Sheet

- Typescripts, in their final draft, should have double spacing and occupy one side only of a page of about 2000 strokes (about 30 lines of 65 strokes each). It should be clear from the manuscript which words or parts of the text are to be set in italics, in block capitals or in small print.
- Quotations in the body of the text longer than 5 lines should be indented and in single spacing. Omitted text should be indicated by an ellipsis (three dots in square brackets). The corresponding numbers are affixed as superscripts, without parentheses after the full stop. References should be in brackets and follow the punctuation.
- Bibliographical details of references should be provided either in the bibliography or in footnotes. The bibliography, if used, should be arranged alphabetically, as follows:

Holland, N.N. 1979 Psychoanalysis and Shakespeare. New York: Octagon.

Massimo, J.L. 1970 "Psychology and gymnastics." In: George, G. (ed.) The magic of gymnastics. Santa Monica, Calif.: Sundby 4 Publications: 31-33.

Potter, A.M. 2010 "Religion and the literary critic." Literator, 10(1):66-76. April.

Pratt, M-L. 1977 Toward a speech act of literary discourse. London: Indiana University Press.

- Titles of publications and journals are given in italics. No quotation marks are used with titles of journals. In the case of journal articles, articles from newspapers and contributions in collections the relevant page numbers should be quoted. The abbreviated Harvard method of reference should be used.
- References in the text are done as follows: Anderson (1982:305) or (Anderson, 1982:305)

- Footnotes. The number (without brackets) should be put to the left of the punctuation mark as a superscript. The footnotes (with indication of the number) should appear on the same page (not at the end of the text) and in single spacing. The numbering of footnotes in the text should be consecutive.

Contributors are encouraged to preserve a copy of the manuscript since the publisher is not responsible for loss of, or damage to, typescripts submitted to this journal. No material submitted to the journal will be returned.

Contributors attached to a South African academic institution receiving DHET research funding are charged R120-00/page as page fee for their articles.
